Kasuboski to speak at Alumni Banquet

Jeff Kasuboski, Class of 1977, will be the featured speaker at the Berlin High School Alumni Banquet to be held Saturday, May 25, 2002, in the BHS cafeteria.

Kasuboski is currently the principal at Wautoma High School in Wautoma, WI. He has also been the Transportation Director for the Wautoma Area School District since 1995.

After graduating from BHS Kasuboski worked as a clerk/stock boy at Greenings Food Store in Berlin and was also a Drivers License Examiner for the Department of Transportation. After that he taught Technology Education and Drivers Education for 13 years in the Omro and Rosendale/Brandon, WI areas. During his last two years in Rosendale, he was also the assistant principal at Laconia High School. High School!!!!

Kasuboski is married to the former Therese Doro who is the assistant director at the 21st Century Learning Center. They have three children: Josh, who is 16 and in the tenth grade; Krista, who is 13 and in the seventh grade; and Zach, who is eight and in the third grade. Kasuboski's hobbies include enjoying the outdoors while hunting and fishing, and weightlifting.

"In my speech I hope to promote education, lifelong learning, and the importance of the family and how its values influence our children," said Kasuboski.

"The staff of the Berlin School District made me realize that education was important and that I could be as successful as I chose to be. My success has been directly proportional to the effort I put in. To me, it is most important to learn something everyday and to do your best at everything because you never get a day back to do over again," he emphasized.

Kasuboski says he enjoys working with youth because, "I like having an impact with our youth. I like trying to make a positive difference in their lives."
